

Estimator
Central London
£40,000 -£50,000 + benefits

A multinational and market leading FM organisation are looking for an Estimator to join a successful team in London, to develop effective win strategy for bid opportunities. Supporting the Bid Manager, you will produce detailed pricing for bid opportunities across catering, cleaning and security contracts

Your principal duties and responsibility are, managing all aspects of quoted works process to maximise revenue and operating profit, estimate the costs of projects to meet or exceed the client's requirements. Determine contractual, financial, technical and operational risks and to find opportunities to minimise risk and maximise gross profit. Support the fulfilment of the programme of works safely, on time and to the required quality while maximising the gross profit and client's satisfaction. Liaising with clients and suppliers to ensure projects are efficiently costed and managed through the pricing and tendering process - generating quotations, PQQ's and tender submissions

The ideal candidate will have experience in a similar Estimating role within the cleaning, security or catering industry. You will have experience of job costing and solution development for commercial proposals.
