

Planning Director
London
£competitive + bonus + equity status

Joshua Robert Recruitment is currently working with a national consulting group. Having started their journey as a planning and development consultancy, the practice has consistently grown and now consists of Town Planning, Architecture/Master Planning and Urban Design through to Transport Design across the UK.

Due to continued expansion, there is now an exciting opportunity for a Planning Director to join the business. With the support of a senior management team, you will have overall leadership of the Central London office; developing and building upon its existing, highly established project portfolio.

A client facing role, you will be out winning business and broadening the reputation of the company across London and additional high-profile projects. Alongside this, you will be managing the workloads and professional development of individuals within the planning team whilst also providing overall leadership and vision.

As a Director, you will also hold responsibility for the financial and performance planning of the office; regularly participating and contributing to company management.

It's expected the successful candidate would, after a qualifying period, move to equity status.

To be considered for this position, you will be RTPI qualified and have proven experience managing professional teams, ideally with experience in both Public and Private sectors. You will have a natural ability to build rapport and have a strong record in successful business development. In addition, you will have previously contributed to companywide business and development strategies and have strong financial management (including client accounts, budgeting and income projections).

In return, you will work for a market leading organisation, offering lots of autonomy to genuinely add value, drive change and make a difference backed by a strong brand. In addition, it is expected the post holder will move to equity status after a qualifying period.
